

Wes Izzard In Talk Advocates Stronger W. T.

WES IZZARD

Wes Izzard, editor of the Amarillo Globe-News, spoke Tuesday at the Rotary Club Luncheon. He praised the spirit of the local club and the wonderful service which was being performed by West Texas State.

Delbert W. Lowes and H. R. Fulton, Jr., were introduced as new members of the club by Glen Truax.

Doug Shirley gave Allan Farlow a service pin for 19 years in continuous attendance in Rotary.

Mr. Izzard stated there were a million members of the service clubs of America. These million men could accomplish anything they wished, but that they were organized to do good, not evil. The real work of service clubs was outside the meeting places. An amazing amount of work is done by these clubs.

He praised the fine spirit of co-operation which he found in Canyon between members of the faculty and business men. There can be no greater influence for good than educators and business men getting together, working for a common goal. Small colleges have a greater opportunity for reaching all people of the community than the big universities.

Educators need the viewpoint of business men, and business men need the advice of educators. There should be a closer relationship between the two, which is made possible in smaller colleges and smaller communities.

There seems to be a continuous battle in high schools between the cultural and vocational influences. In many high schools faculty members take the position that because 65% of their graduates will not attend college that vocational training should be stressed above the cultural. Mr. Izzard is of the opinion that education should be so attractive that the 65% would want to go to college.

West Texas State is a great regional college. It does not belong to Amarillo. It should be looked upon by the region as "our university," believes Mr. Izzard. The Museum building stands as a monument to the united efforts of a region. The speaker hopes that research laboratories be erected which will study the peculiar problems of this area. The tumble weed is looked upon as a menace, and some day will be developed into something useful as scientists find a use for it. A study of the peculiar soil would be profitable to this section.

Mr. Izzard believes that the greatest need of the nation is a sense of humor, the kind that Will Rogers displayed—not the gag and giggle type, but honest humor. He believes that the nations of the world would soon get together if they had a sense of humor. It is unfortunate that both Secretary Marshall and Molotov are entirely devoid of a sense of humor.

Visitors were: Dr. James P. Cornette, Elmer Wooten, I. F. SoRelle, John L. Hammond, Rhone Mobley, Dr. Leo DuPlot, J. T. Sykes, all of Canyon; O. K. Lewis, Bill Dell, John Oakes, all of Amarillo; Ray C. Rutherford of Encinitas, Calif.

Egg Within Egg Was Found at the A. E. Wise Home

A. E. Wise brought a peculiar egg to the News office Friday. It was an egg within an egg.

The outer egg measured 7½ inches by 9 inches, and was complete with white and yoke.

The small egg within the big egg was likewise complete with white and yoke.

The egg came from an Australian white hen. This breed lays large eggs, but this was a most unusual one.

CAR OVERTURNS

Mrs. Ross Service is recovering at her home from injuries sustained when the car in which she was riding overturned during the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Service were returning from Odessa where they had been for a visit when the accident occurred due to the icy condition of the roads.

Land Owners in Protest Against Amarillo Wells

A protest is being made by Randall county land owners because of the increased number of water wells which are being planned by the city of Amarillo in the northwest part of Randall county.

Land owners state that it has been necessary for them to lower their irrigation pumps 20 feet because of the water which is being taken out of the ground by the wells which belong to the city of Amarillo.

It is reported that Amarillo now has about 20 wells in this territory, and plan to drill several more in the spring.

The late D. L. McDonald, water authority, protested against the further development of the Randall county area by Amarillo, claiming that a better water structure existed northeast of Amarillo. City officials of Amarillo vetoed the McDonald plan and will proceed with development of the Randall territory.

A representative of the land owners has been in Canyon seeking the co-operation of the Farm Bureau and interested citizens. It is claimed that the further depletion of the water structure will cost the land owners of Randall county millions of dollars during the coming years.

Whether or not the land owners will be able to stop further development by the city of Amarillo is a legal question which will have to be investigated before any one will venture an opinion. If legal means can be found, land owners in the northwest part of the county are of the opinion that steps should be taken at once.

George A. Farlow Has 19 Years Per- fect Rotary Record

GEORGE ALLAN FARLOW

A distinguished service pin was presented at the Canyon Rotary Club Tuesday to George Allan Farlow who has a perfect attendance in the local club for 19 years. His perfect record extended over the life of the local club.

In addition to his work in the Rotary Club, Mr. Farlow is a member of the City Commission, and has been very active in American Legion affairs.

He is the only charter member of the Rotary Club who has been able to maintain a perfect attendance record.

Two Bills Found By New Grand Jury Meeting Monday

A new term of district court was in session Monday investigating law infractions in the county during recent weeks.

Members of the grand jury were: Clay Cooper, foreman, Marion Bruce, Paul Funston, W. A. Juett, Paul Lindsey, Ed Mickle, M. B. Brown, John F. Lill, Jack Cagle, L. T. Campbell, W. N. Barrick, R. E. Blankenship.

Two bills were returned by the grand jury, one for forgery and one for theft.

C. P. Shelnutt and R. H. Long were bailiffs.

BREAKS ANKLE

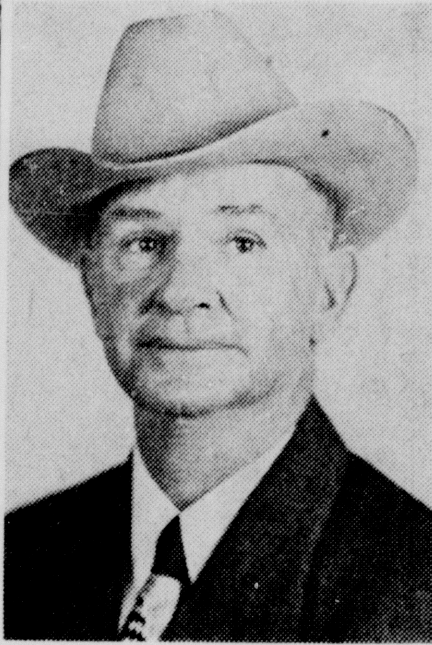

Mrs. Edd Bailey is a patient in Nebbett hospital recovering from a broken ankle which she received in a fall Tuesday morning on a stairway at Thompson Hardware.

INJURED IN FALL

Dr. Hattie M. Anderson received a broken arm when she fell near the Post Office on the ice. She was a patient in the Nebbett hospital for several days.

Charles Stratton has returned to Los Angeles, Calif., to continue his studies at the University after a visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Stratton.

W. L. Avent Is Candidate For Office of Sheriff

W. L. AVENT

The following statement was submitted by W. L. Avent, who is the first candidate in Randall county to announce for public office subject to the Democratic primary in July, 1948:

I wish to announce my candidacy for the office of Sheriff and Tax Assessor and Collector of Randall County, subject to the Democratic primary in July.

I have been a resident of Randall County for 36 years having moved here with my parents in 1911; I attended the Canyon High School and the West Texas State College. In these years I feel that I have become thoroughly acquainted with the community and its citizens.

During the most of my life in Randall County, I have been engaged in farming, stock raising and trucking.

Before the July election I plan to see and talk to each voter personally, but should I for some reason miss anyone, I want to take the opportunity to ask for your vote and support in the coming primary election.

I believe that I am qualified to fulfill the duties of the office and if elected I shall devote my entire time in serving to the best of my ability.

Cold Wave at First of Year Snow, Sleet

The coldest wave of the winter hit Thursday morning, January 1st, when the temperature sagged to 9 degrees above zero.

Sleet and snow accompanied the cold wave, although the amount of moisture was not great. Only 25 of an inch of moisture was received in Canyon. Highways were very dangerous to travel, and many persons fell on the sidewalks as a result of the ice.

The temperature moderated after the cold wave, and fine spring weather has been enjoyed during the past few days.

Directors of Press Association Will Meet Here Friday

Officers and directors of the Panhandle Press Association will meet in Canyon Friday afternoon at three o'clock to make plans for the 39th annual convention of the association, which will be held in Amarillo April 9-10.

Clyde W. Warwick, secretary, invited the directors to meet in Canyon before the dinner given in honor of Dr. James P. Cornette Friday night in order to save time for the directors.

The visiting newspaper men will meet at the News office and will confer at 3 o'clock at the City Hall.

Cole & McGahey Service Station Saved From Flames Wednesday

The new Service Station and Firestone Store of Cole & McGahey at the corner of Third Avenue and Highway 87 was saved from total destruction Wednesday morning when Glenn McGahey drove a flaming gasoline transport truck from the plant. The entire plant would have gone up in flames had not Mr. McGahey had the nerve to drive the truck away from the building to a vacant lot one block west of the station.

J. R. Melton of Amarillo, driver of the Magnolia transport, was unloading gasoline at the building. He had filled one tank and started to remove the hose from the tank, which was running over. Melton states that all at once the gasoline exploded and he started to run, his clothing on fire. He was burned on both feet and legs, and on his right hand.

McGahey saw the danger to the station and climbed into the cab to drive the flaming transport away. He was burned on one hand, but otherwise suffered no injuries. The transport burned for more than an hour.

Ray Cole, co-owner with McGahey of the business, stated that he was at work at his desk when he looked up and saw Melton running, with flame surrounding him. He decided to get the cash register out of danger when three plate glass on the south side fell in. Smoke filled the building.

Smoke damage and broken windows were the greatest loss in the fire. The casings of the three windows and doors leading to the storage room and grease rack were badly damaged. The loss will probably run to about $2,000. The pumps were badly smoked, but were not put out of commission by the flames.

The broken windows and outside damage will be repaired within a short time.

New Year's Baby Receives Gifts

Ronald Eugene Smith was first baby of the new year in Canyon. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Smith and arrived at Nebbett hospital at 3:30 o'clock the afternoon of New Year's Day.

To honor the new baby, he and his mother were sent an orchid corsage from The Flower Mart. Mr. and Mrs. Chris Wooten, owners, state that they intend to make this a tradition of The Flower Mart, and that a similar corsage will be sent each year to the first baby.

Ronald Eugene also received four weeks' free laundry service from the Bendix Automatic Laundry. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Turner, owners, will also give two weeks' free service to each baby who arrives in 1948.

Harold Stassen Will Talk Here on January 19

HAROLD STASSEN

The first presidential candidate to ever visit Canyon will be former Governor Harold Stassen of Minnesota, who will speak at West Texas State on Monday afternoon, January 19, at 3:45 o'clock.

Mr. Stassen will visit the Panhandle at this time, attempting to line up delegates to the Republican National Convention who will support his candidacy.

From reports over the territory, Stassen is strong with GOP leaders over Texas.

Governor Stassen served in the Navy during the war, and has been working with the American delegates in the United Nations program.

Randall county citizens are invited to hear this distinguished statesman who has made such a remarkable record.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Russell and children of Panhandle visited in the home of Mrs. Letha Lehnick Sunday.

Bufs Lost in Game Tuesday at Hardin-Simmons

The Buffalo basketball team was knocked out of the undefeated class of the Border Conference at Hardin-Simmons Tuesday night. The Cowboys won by a close score of 41-38 in a rough and tumble game.

The Bufs had led throughout the game until the last few minutes when the Cowboys succeeded in looping baskets and forging ahead.

Arizona University will play the Bufs at Burton Gym Thursday night. While comparative scores mean nothing in basketball, it is well to note that while Bradley succeeded in nosing out the Bufs in Los Angeles by one point, Bradley whipped Arizona Tuesday night 91 to 66.

Lions Club Will Sponsor "Bambi" At Three Shows

"Bambi," the motion picture, will be shown at the Olympic theater January 9 and 10, sponsored by the Canyon Lions Club. There will be three separate showings, Friday at 9:45 a. m. and again at 1 p. m., for students of both the Canyon and West Texas State High and Grade Schools. The final show will be Saturday morning at 10 o'clock for students who were unable to attend either of the first two shows, and others who wish to see the picture.

Entire net proceeds of the shows will be used toward the purchase of playground equipment for the Canyon Public School and the Demonstration School playgrounds.

RKO Pictures has donated the use of the film without cost, and the local theater is donating the use of its facilities and is showing the film free of charge.

Admission will be by means of voluntary gifts, and no door fee will be charged. A table will be placed in the theater, and all citizens of this city are urged to bring or send contributions to be used for the establishment of playgrounds at the two schools.

The picture is billed as a pre-release showing and is being placed by RKO as a new picture. Additional shorts will be presented as a further contribution. This will make a full length show of special appeal to children, and adults are invited to attend any of the three showings.

"Bambi" is a Walt Disney feature-length cartoon relating the story of a faun, and is of unusual beauty in scene and sound. Its story is appealing and interesting to all persons who care for animals.

Dr. James P. Cornette Will Be Presented to Citizens of This Region By Board Regents Friday

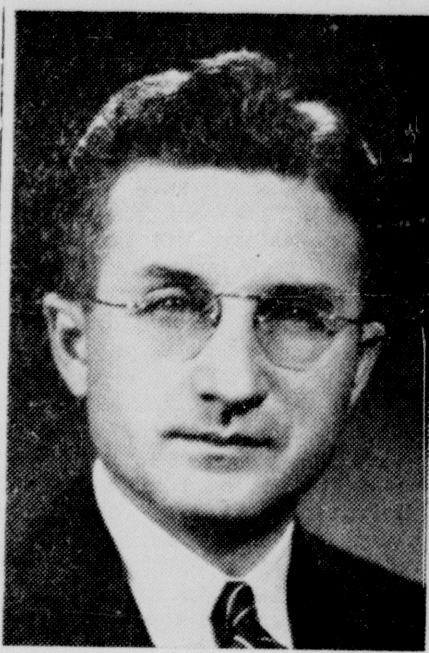

Beckman Funeral Was Held at St. Mary's Church

Last rites for Antone Beckman, 71 years old, were conducted Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock in St. Mary's Catholic Church at UMBARGER. Mr. Beckman died Tuesday morning at his farm home at UMBARGER. He was stricken with a heart attack while he was riding to feed the cows in a pasture near his home.

Mr. Beckman, who was born in German, had lived at Umbarger since 1907. Although he had heart disease for a number of years, his sudden death came as a distinct shock to his family.

Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Carrie Beckman and one son, Clarence Beckman, UMBARGER; five brothers, Joe Beckman, UMBARGER, Chris Beckman, Los Angeles, and Bert, Gus and Bill Beckman, Elgin, Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. Otto Ostink and Mrs. Mary Connerly, both of Elgin, and two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Arrangements were under the direction of the Griggs-Warren Funeral Home.

DR. JAMES P. CORNETTE

A dinner will be held Friday evening at 7 o'clock at the college cafeteria at which time the Board of Regents will officially present Dr. James P. Cornette to the citizens of Canyon, members of the faculty and citizens of West Texas. Dr. Cornette is executive vice president of West Texas State and will succeed President J. A. Hill on September 1st.

Hon. Walter Woodul of Houston, member of the Board of Regents, will preside at the program. A majority of the Board members have indicated that they will attend this dinner.

According to a checkup Tuesday it is found that nearly 400 persons have accepted the invitation to attend this dinner.

Canyon citizens are advised to reach the cafeteria at about 6:45 o'clock. The dinner will be served promptly at 7 o'clock, and the program will be concluded by 9 o'clock in order that persons from a distance may drive back home that night.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club are sponsoring the dinner. Members from these organizations met Sunday afternoon to plan for reception of the visitors and to check final arrangements.

Due to the fact that the cafeteria can care for only 400 persons, the guest list of necessity is limited and no tickets are available. For the affair. According to acceptance, about 150 persons from the Plains territory outside of Canyon will attend the dinner.

Mrs. Ruth Costley Dies At Home On Monday Morning

Mrs. Ruth Costley, 73 years old, died at 10:20 o'clock Monday morning at her home after a long illness. She had been a resident of Canyon and Randall County since 1904.

Mrs. Costley was born Aug. 26, 1874, in Parker County. She was an active worker in the Baptist Church.

Her husband, Andy Costley, died February 20, 1930.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First Baptist Church with Rev. Edgar Parker, Jefferson, officiating, assisted by Dr. Roy L. Johnson.

Palbearers were: Jess Hill, Wilson Campbell, Crawford Ackerman, Dennis and Ray Burrus and Allen Dickinson.

Survivors include: one son, Glen Costley; three daughters, Mrs. Harley Burrus, Mrs. Gladys Haines and Mrs. Roy L. Slagle, all of Canyon, and twelve grandchildren.

Also surviving are four brothers: A. L. Ritchey, Tulsa, Okla.; T. P. Ritchey, Springfield; Arthur Ritchey, Fort Worth; G. L. Ritchey, Dallas; and four sisters: Mrs. Martha Scroggins, Azle; Mrs. Josie Swift, Memphis; Mrs. Ida Cannon, Fort Worth; and Mrs. Annie Hamilton, Hondo, Calif.

Interment was in Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of the Griggs-Warren Funeral Home.

Mrs. Landrum Dies at Vega

Mrs. Cora Ann Landrum died at her home in Vega early Sunday morning. Mrs. Landrum, 64 years old, was a resident of Canyon until she moved to Vega with her family 20 years ago. She was born in Kentucky.

Funeral services were conducted in the Vega Baptist Church at 3 o'clock, Monday afternoon, with Rev. L. E. Godwin officiating, assisted by Rev. John A. English.

Survivors include the husband, L. W. Landrum; a son, A. B. Landrum of Plainview; two daughters, Mrs. Frank Ballard of Brownfield and Mrs. Arthur Sammann of Tulsa. A sister, Mrs. S. B. McClure, formerly of this city, now resides in Amarillo, and Boone McClure, director of the Panhandle-Plains Museum, is a nephew.

P. T. A. STUDY CLUB

A program of visual education will be presented when members of the Parent-Teacher Study Club meet Thursday from 1:30 until 3:30, in the Thompson Club room.

Weems S. Dykes To Attend Minister's Week Lectureship

Weems S. Dykes, minister of the First Christian Church will attend the Minister's Week program for the Christian ministers of Texas to be held at Texas Christian University in Ft. Worth, January 12-16.

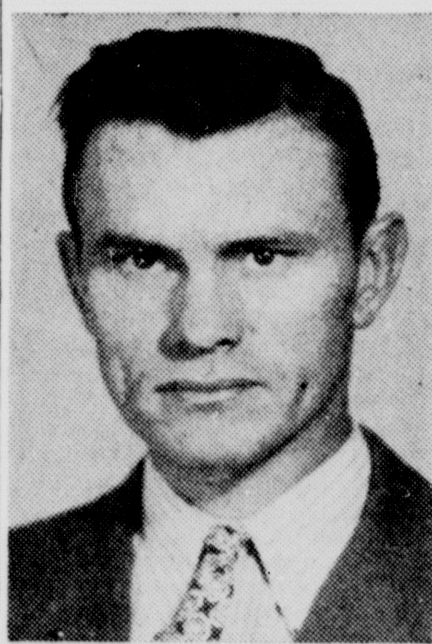

Texas Christian University will begin her Diamond Jubilee Celebration by having Dr. George Arthur Buttrick of the famed Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City as the chief lecturer. Others who will give lectures are, Dr. Hampton Adams of the Union Avenue Christian Church, St. Louis, Missouri; Dr. C. O. Hawley who is Executive Secretary of the Crusade for a Christian World among the Disciples Brotherhood, and Dr. William Reed who is a member of the faculty of Brite College of the Bible at Texas Christian University.

Texas Christian University had her beginning seventy-five years ago at Thorpe Springs, Texas with an enrollment of 13 students. Today she has an enrollment of over 5,000 students.

The theme of Dr. Buttrick's messages will be basic Christian beliefs, Belief in Jesus Christ, the Holy Spirit, the Atonement, the Church, and Eternal Life.

The Christian Churches will observe Higher Education Day in the brotherhood on January 18, and will take an offering for that purpose.

T. H. Lair Seeks Re-election Office Of County Clerk

T. H. (Tommy) LAIR

The News is authorized to announce the candidacy of T. H. Lair as a candidate for re-election to the office of County and District Clerk. His statement follows:

I wish to take this means of announcing my candidacy for re-election as your County and District Clerk. I am now serving as your Clerk, and I feel that if I am re-elected for a second term that the experience I am now gaining will enable me to serve you more efficiently.

I have made mistakes during my first year in public office, but as the mistakes I have made were honest ones, I hope not to make the same ones again.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the voters of Randall County for the support and co-operation I have received.

I earnestly solicit your confidence for a second term, stated Mr. Lair.

BREAKS HIP

Mrs. J. C. Curb of this city is a patient in an Amarillo hospital where she is recovering from a broken hip, sustained as the result of a fall on the ice covered streets in Amarillo one day last week.

Help Keep Canyon Clean!

Editorials

The announcement of Henry Wallace that he would be a candidate on the third party ticket comes as no surprise. After Henry blasted Truman and expressed his preference to Taft, there was no question about his willingness to offer himself as a third party candidate. The question is: Just what will Wallace accomplish? The Republicans hope that Wallace's entry will defeat Truman. This could possibly be the result. Wallace will probably not carry a single state. But if he succeeds in getting a sufficient number of Communist vote in Illinois, Michigan and New York, he could succeed in the defeat of Truman. That is probably his goal. So far as the other states are concerned, Wallace is a joke. In Texas, for instance, he will get the vote of a scattering bunch of wild eyed theorists, who want to turn the pockets of the taxpayers inside out and throw the resources of the government to Moscow. We cannot think of a single reason why Wallace should be elected president; other than let the give-away boys have another big spending spree. While the nation went through such a period when the sky was the limit in giving, we believe, and hope, that those free days are over and that when we give something away it will be for the benefit of the nation, rather than for a joyful moment for the spenders. We have always noticed that the free spender seldom makes the money that he spends. Wallace is a notable example.

Coke Stevenson is a candidate for U. S. Senator from Texas. He is going to battle it out with Pappy O'Daniel. So far as this race is concerned, we have already pledged our vote. It will go to Stevenson. Pappy was never of service to the state. He has been a flash in the pan if there was ever such an animal in Texas public life. He did a lot of singing, preaching and promising, but in Washington he has been a lone wolf without leadership or following. He has been repudiated by the Democrats and ignored by the Republicans. When Coke Stevenson goes to Washington Texas will be able to represent. Coke is a great deal like Tom Connally. He does his own thinking, and when he speaks he says something. When he gets ready to act, the people know where he stands and what he stands for. Coke has never jumped because someone pointed a political squirt-gun at his head and threatened his political life. He went through some pretty strenuous moments while governor of Texas, but he never became excited in the least. He is the type of man that Texas needs in the Senate, and we venture the assertion this early in the campaign that he will easily be elected.

President Truman has signed the anti-inflation bill passed by the Republican dominated Congress, but blasted the bill as being wholly inadequate to meet the needs of the nation. His position is that rationing must be restored before prices can be checked. Yet Mr. Truman avoids saying anything about checking increased labor costs, which make up a large per cent of any manufacturing plant. Truman is following in the steps of Roosevelt in allowing labor leaders to boost wages, while demanding that other costs be reduced. It simply won't work. Until a ceiling is clamped on all commodities, including labor, we are going to have inflation.

We recently heard a noted speaker say that if the English troops left Palestine that the Arabs would soon kill off all of the Jews. It seems that both sides are doing a pretty good job of annihilating each other. Oil is at the bottom of the whole story—oil that Russia wants and must have, and oil that justly belongs to Americans who have spent millions of dollars in development.

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson has put the ration on distillers so far as use of grain for liquor is concerned. The distillers have been claiming that they use very little grain in making liquor. But they howled when the ration order was issued.

General Electric has announced the price reduction of many of its products. This comes in face of higher production costs, both as to labor and materials. Other big industrial plants may follow suit, or this move may be just another flash in the pan, something like the proposal of some eastern merchants to reduce retail prices a few months ago. In face of the proposal to hold prices in line, CIO has announced that it will seek another wage hike for all of its members. If this comes, you may throw out of the window all attempts to hold the line on prices.

Wonder how many of these too numerous bowl games will survive when money gets tight again? So long as big money is involved, the athletic teams will be willing to satisfy the fellows who want to pay the dough for such games.

You are certainly doing well if your New Year resolution has held out this far.

TIME FOR REASONING

There has been an ominous increase in the fear of Russia on the part of the American people during the past few months. This is not said out of a desire to minimize the seriousness of the international situation. However, it must be remembered that it is possible to fan the flames of fear and suspicion until a nation comes to believe that war is inevitable. And once that stage is reached, war always comes sooner or later.

David Lawrence put this well when he said, "The danger in a battle of words is that it can conceivably develop into a battle of arms." It is unfortunate that American statesmen have been goaded into using language that is not often employed between countries not at war. The Russians, of course, provoked them into it. Even so, difficult as it may be to keep our tempers, we cannot gain anything by war-like talk simply because Russia employs war-like talk. To quote Mr. Lawrence again, "It is a time for restrained phrases and for persuasive argument. It is a time not for feeling but for reasoning."

We can best serve the cause of freedom abroad, in our relations with the Russians and all others, by backing up our material aid with a demonstration of the fact that democracy, as we know it, is superior to any form of super-state. We can, in other words, help combat the spread of communism by example. We must keep our people and our industries free of the governmental controls which plague Europe. And, at the same time, we must continue to work to the limit of our abilities with all nations, regardless of ideology, to maintain the peace of the world. "Fear hysteria" will never achieve that vital end.

WHAT'S RIGHT WITH USA!

Millions of Americans seem to be apathetic toward charges that there is something basically wrong with our governmental and economic systems, and that socialism, communism and the rest of the assorted isms have more to offer.

Edward C. Sammons, president of the United States National Bank of Portland, Oregon, touched on that vividly when he said:

"Our country is the only nation in the history of the world that has continued with its intrinsic, basic type of government since its beginning 170 years ago. . . . In those 170 years our 6 per cent of the world's population produced 25 per cent of the world's goods and possesses 50 per cent of the world's wealth. In no other country is there such opportunity as here.

"Too many people are saying what is wrong with America. Instead, we should be saying what is right with the United States. Why should capital be on trial here? Why should not socialism or communism instead be on trial, when our people are asked to provide the money and the food and tools for other nations to carry on?

"In my time we have defended our country three times from outside invaders, but we are not defending it sufficiently from within. The working man here is able to live almost as well as a king compared with those in other countries. Other systems promise. Our people have!"

That is a fundamental truth. The American people should shout from the housetops their faith in a system that has given them unprecedented tangible benefits—and, infinitely more important, the intangible.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

WORLD MUST HAVE OIL

World demand for oil and oil products is now at an all-time peak. And, if a study prepared by economists of one of our leading oil companies proves correct, demand will continue to increase at a rapid rate. In 1938, world oil consumption, excluding the Soviet Union and the United States, was 1,900,000 barrels a day. This year it is 2,700,000. By 1950, the study forecasts, it will reach 3,200,000 barrels daily, and by 1960 it will touch 4,500,000—an increase of 67 per cent over the present.

The United States alone—figures are not available on the Soviet Union—is now consuming about 5,400,000 barrels each day. By 1960, it is expected that demand will rise to 6,800,000—an increase of 28 per cent.

It is manifestly impossible to supply world demand from oil resources within this country. The major part of the European demand must be supplied from other regions. That is why American capital and American know-how are now developing foreign sources of oil as rapidly as conditions permit. The great development in Saudi Arabia, which is being undertaken by a group of American companies, is the best known example. The cost will be enormous. Problem after problem of weather, terrain, supplies, etc., must be met and solved. But the world must have oil.

Had Abraham Lincoln been living today, a case worker would see that his father received a monthly check from the country. The OPA would reduce his rent by 50%. He would receive a subsidy for rail splitting; another one for raising some crop he was going to raise anyway, and still another for not raising a crop he had no intention of raising. Result: there would have been no Abraham Lincoln—Henry J. Allen, ex-governor of Kansas.

It is known that Folsom Man foraged over the continent 10,000 to 15,000 years ago. But his bones have never turned up. If now we find them along the Columbia river, it will be the most exciting anthropological event in years.—Dr. Frank H. Roberts, Jr., Smithsonian Institution.

EPITAPH

Two travelers in Ireland, returning home late one night, lost their way.

Said one, "We must be in a cemetery. Here's the gravestone."

"Whose is it?" asked the other.

The more sober of the two, having struck a match, said "I don't know, but he seems to have lived to a ripe old age—175."

"Can you read the name?" insisted his companion.

Another match having been lit: "I don't know him. Some fellow called 'Miles from Dublin.'"

POLITICIAN

They were on board the excursion steamer, and as Mr. Biggott, the prominent politician, strode the deck, he devoutly hoped that here, at least, he would not be recognized. But it was not to be.

"You're Mr. Biggott, ain't you, sir?"

"That's my name," said the wearied politician frigidly, "but I am not aware that I have had the pleasure of seeing you before."

"What!" said the unabashed admirer, "you don't remember me? Why, don't you recollect that big meeting you had in Leamington a year ago, and what a grand reception you got?"

"Yes, I remember that. But—"

"Well, was the triumphant rejoinder," "I was the chap in the brown hat!"

COMPANY

A thirsty man wandered into the bar and ordered a dry Martini cocktail. He drank it with relish, and remarked that it was the best he had ever tasted. The bartender whipped up another, and the customer declared it was even better than the first.

"Such genius deserves reward," he said, swaying slightly. He reached into his pocket and produced a live lobster. "Here! Take this with my compliments," he said.

The bartender held the lobster gingerly at arm's length. "Thanks," he said, dubiously. "I suppose I can take it home for dinner."

"No, no," objected the customer, "he's already had his dinner. Take him to a movie."

LOVE

It seems that a girl and a boy were madly in love. So great was their love that when fate separated them and sent the boy to a distant city, he telegraphed messages of his devotion and affection each morning. Every day for three years the same Western Union messenger boy knocked on the girl's door bearing the messages of undying love.

At the end of three years they were married—the girl and the Western Union boy.

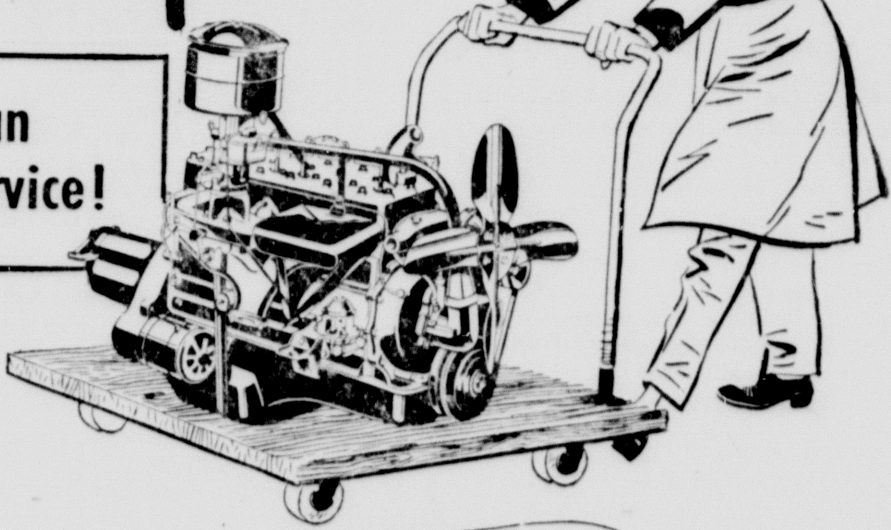

The free society is the only peaceful society. The strong government has never produced welfare. It produces wars. It was designed to produce wars.—Edna Longan in Human events.

Frank Kimbrough Named "Coach of the Year" in Border Conference

COACH FRANK KIMBROUGH

According to the Associated Press, Coach Frank Kimbrough of West Texas State has been named "Coach of the Year" in the Border Conference. In his first year as head coach of the Buffaloes, Kimbrough made a remarkable record.

The following is the dispatch: DALLAS: The "Coach Of The Year" in the Southwest Conference is Southern Methodist's Madison Bell and in high school Highland Park's Herman Morgan, in the annual balloting of the Texas Sports-writers Association.

The group announced its selection of the "coach of the year" in five conferences and the Interscholastic League athletic program. Wilford Moore, McMurry College, was named coach of the year in the Texas Conference; Floyd Wagstaff, Tyler Junior College, in the Southwestern Junior College Conference; Lloyd Raymer, Hillsboro, in the Texas Junior College Athletic Association; Frank Kimbrough, West Texas State, in the Border Conference; and Odus Mitchell, North Texas State, in the Lone Star Conference.

Morgan was far ahead of other candidates for the nomination in the high school field. The Highland Park coach took his underdog Scots into the finals of the state football race for the third time in four years, losing to Brackett (San Antonio).

The Scots lost three games, tied one, then sprang two big upsets by downing Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) and Odessa in the play-off. Bell coached the Southern Methodist Mustangs to nine victories and one tie and host spot in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day, where the Ponies and Penn State drew, 13-13. Moore's McMurry eleven shared the Texas Conference title with Hardin College, the first time in the school's history the Indians have ever finished on top of the standings.

Kimbrough's West Texas State eleven surprised everyone by winning the majority of its games, losing to Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons in conference play. Wagstaff took Tyler Junior College through an undefeated season in the first year for Tyler in the Southwestern Junior College Conference and a loss to Compton, Cal., in the Texas Rose Bowl.

Jack Sisco, veteran football official, won the "Southwesterner of the year" award.

A young couple was having a very intimate family discussion over the question of whether they would buy a new automobile or have a baby. They realized they probably could not have both, so they finally decided to have a baby—because they could get it more quickly.—Charles E. Wilson, president, General Motors.

We Canadians helped to evolve the atom bomb, and the British did a great deal more. Neither Britain nor Canada is getting any material on atomic research classified as secret from the United States.—Blair Fraser, Ottawa editor.

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

"Of a good beginning cometh a good end." —OLD PROVERB

A NEW YEAR LIES AHEAD — A YEAR THAT DEMANDS POSITIVE ACTION OF ALL OF US — A YEAR TO BE FACED WITH HIGH RESOLVE.

IF WE AMERICANS MAKE AND CARRY THROUGH THE FAR-REACHING RESOLUTIONS THAT ARE CALLED FOR THIS YEAR AT THIS PARTICULAR SEASON —

WE WILL BECOME BETTER CITIZENS THROUGH FULLER ACCEPTANCE OF OUR RESPONSIBILITIES.

WE WILL BECOME MORE FULLY ROUNDED INDIVIDUALS THROUGH STRIVING TO REACH OUR HIGHEST CAPACITIES.

WE WILL, IN OUR FAMILY AND NATIONAL LIFE, ACHIEVE GREATER HAPPINESS AND SECURITY THROUGH UNDERSTANDING, THROUGH PRUDENT MANAGEMENT OF OUR RESOURCES FOR THE NEEDS OF THE DAY AND OF THE MORROW.

—AND FROM OUR GOOD BEGINNING WILL COME A FURTHER STRENGTHENING OF OUR DEMOCRACY.

NOTICE Taxpayers

Your 1947 TAXES are now due and must be paid before the first day of February, 1948 to avoid penalty.

Both men and women are required to pay their poll tax. Unpaid poll taxes are a lien upon any real or personal property you may own, or come into possession of.

Those who are 60 years of age or more are not required to have an exemption to vote; those who have moved into the county since January 1, 1947, are required to have an exemption; those who have become 21 years of age since January 1, 1947, or will become of age during 1948 are required to secure an exemption certificate during January, 1948, before they may vote in any of the elections during the year; no charge is made for these exemptions.

1948 automobile license fees cannot be paid before February 1st, 1948, but must be paid between Feb. 1st and April 1st, 1948.

Church Is Scene Phillips-Waldrop Wedding Rites

An altar banked with fern and white gladioli interspersed with white cathedral tapers in wrought-iron candelabra, formed the background for the exchange of wedding vows of Miss LaNelle Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clary W. Phillips, Olton, and Hubert H. Waldrop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Waldrop, Canyon.

The Rev. Guy Self, pastor, read the double ring ceremony in the First Baptist Church, Olton, at 11 a. m. Wednesday, December 24.

Preceding the ceremony a medley of pre-nuptial music was played by Harold Dean Carson, and Miss Margaret Ann Self sang, "Always" and "I Love You Truly." The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

Candles were lighted by Miss Gwendolyn Phillips, sister of the bride, and Miss Janice Waldrop, sister of the bridegroom.

Miss Joy Phillips attended her sister as bridesmaid. David Morris, Canyon, served as best man. Ushers were Dayton Morris, George Blackwell and B. A. Dickerson, all of Canyon.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a winter white suit with brown accessories, and carried a white Bible topped with a bridal bouquet.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Holley. Centerpiece for the table was a three-tiered white wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Miss Lila Lill, Canyon, presided at the table, assisted by Miss Mary Marie Bier, Plainview. Miss Charlene Jolly, Plainview, secured names for the guest book.

Immediately after the reception the couple left for a brief wedding trip. Mrs. Waldrop traveled in a gray tweed suit with green accessories and she wore a corsage of purple orchids.

Mr. Waldrop, a veteran of World War II, is a student in West Texas State College and is employed by the Southwestern Public Service Company. Mrs. Waldrop, a graduate of Olton High School and Wayland College, is now a senior in West Texas State College.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Earl White, Seagraves; Mr. and Mrs. J. Jolly and Charlene, Mrs. Oliver Eler and Mary Marie, and Miss Odessie Howell, all of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Waldrop, Janice and Keith, Tom Knighton, Mr. and Mrs. George Blackwell, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Dickerson, Mr. and Mrs. Crannell Toliver and Brian, Mrs. T. H. Knighton, David Morris, Dayton Morris, Lila Lill, all of Canyon; Mrs. Neil Cooper, Sweetwater; Miss Jessie Cook, Clarendon and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Holley, Fort Worth.

Mrs. G. S. Ballard of Amarillo was in Canyon recently for a visit with her sister, Mrs. J. C. Dowd. Mrs. Ballard and Mrs. Dowd also visited with another sister, Mrs. Annie Evans, in Tulsa.

Thomas B. Foster of Dellflower, Calif., visited in Canyon recently in the home of Mrs. Emma Foster and Mattie. He is a grandson of Mrs. Foster.

PLAUSIBLE

Sir Harry Lauder confesses that the smartest answer to a stupid question he ever heard was delivered to him in Butte, Montana, by an aged Negro cabdriver.

On his visit to the city, Lauder made the trip from the railroad station to the town and return in this aged Jehu's dilapidated buggy. The town was about a mile from the station, and on the return trip the famous Scot inquired why they had built the station so far away.

"I don't jes know," replied the old Negro, "unless it am to have de depot near de railroad."

TIME

With a stormy look on his face the master of the household waylaid the servant in the kitchen. "Look here," he began angrily, "How dare you tell my wife what time I came home this morning, after I told you not to?"

The Irish girl eyed him steadily. "Sure, an' Oi didn't," she replied calmly. "She asked me what time ye came in an' Oi only told her that Oi was too busy getting the breakfast ready to look at the clock."

The United States Employment Service is flatly predicting that U. S. employment will top 60 million workers again in 1948 and will ask the U. S. Immigration Service to drop all barriers on importing Mexican labor. Greatest demand for workers, the Service says, will come from agricultural regions.

The U. S. railroads will wind up their case before the Interstate Commerce Commission for a 30% freight rate boost this week. Even the most outspoken shippers opposing the rate hike are admitting that the railroads' case is so free from loopholes that they will get nearly all they are asking for.

Big steel producers have assured their customers there will be no rise in steel prices, except for items requiring tin plating. Even if the CIO steelworkers demand a wage boost, the two-year contract, signed last fall, will hold labor costs down to present levels.

A big carpet company thinks things have been too easy for the linoleum industry. It hopes to cut substantially into the huge market for the 9x12 ft. enamel-surfaced felt-based rug which sells for $10-$12. Motor carriers are warned by American Trucking Associations, Inc., to watch for racketeers who order merchandise in the name of retail chain stores, pick up the shipment at terminals after showing fake papers. Such frauds have increased 50% recently, may double within the next six months.

Budget Director Webb and President Truman have been burning the midnight oil trying to pare down the Federal budget for next year. Despite their cutting, high prices and extending Government activities will push the total Government cost above $40 billions, Budget Bureau aides admit.

New Postmaster General Donaldson's first official move will be to institute a thorough inquiry into air-mail rates. In conjunction with the House Post Office Committee, Donaldson hopes to cut rates and increase the volume of mail to make air-mail more profitable to the Government and the airlines.

The Senate Expenditures Committee has completed its study of proposed changes in the Legislative Reorganization Act. But legislation to further streamline Congress will be held up until after the European Recovery Program is out of the way.

Williams-Huff Marriage Vows Are Exchanged in Candlelight Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. WALLACE H. HUFF

In an impressive candlelight ceremony on New Year's Eve, at 9 o'clock, Miss Patsy Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Brasher, became the bride of Wallace H. Huff of this city in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Morrison, 906 14th Street.

The vows were exchanged as the couple stood beneath an arch of huckleberry leaves entwined with pink and white carnations, with Dr. Roy L. Johnson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating.

The bride was attired in a dusty rose crepe dress trimmed in matching lace, with black and white accessories. Her hat was of winter white velvet, and she carried white gloves. For something old, she wore a wedding band belonging to her mother; and for something new, a watch, a gift of the bridegroom. Something borrowed was a gold bracelet set with pearls belonging to Mrs. D. P. Clark, her maternal grandmother, and something blue was a rosette of blue ribbon. She also placed a sixpence in her slipper for luck. Her corsage was of white carnations tied with white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Gene Morrison was the bride's attendant and wore a dress of aqua blue designed identically with that of the bride. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses.

Gene Morrison served the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Huff received her education in the Plainview Public Schools, Wayland College and West Texas State. For the past two years she has been employed as receptionist and secretary to Dr. R. P. Jarrett, Jr. Mr. Huff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Huff of Booker, and formerly of Canyon. He attended Canyon High School and served for two years with the armed forces, 18 months of which were spent in Germany.

The couple left immediately following the ceremony for a short wedding trip. They will be at home in Canyon.

Members of the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom were present for the ceremony.

Mr. Fitzhugh succeeds O. D. Moseley, who left last week with his wife and two children to go to San Benito, Texas, where he will be manager of the Moses Company Store in that city.

Some makers of nickel-priced goods want a new 7½c coin so they can raise the price without bumping into the multiple-coin problem which kills sales. It will be opposed by the banks whose counting machines can't take care of it and by coin-vending operators and cash register manufacturers for similar reasons. The Treasury says odd-size coins are short-lived—a ½c piece lasted 60 years to 1857; a 2c piece for nine years to 1873, and a 3c piece for 25 years to 1890.

JESUS THE WORLD'S GREATEST TEACHER

Whether judged by subject matter, the method of its presentation, or effectiveness in influencing life, Jesus enjoys preeminence among teachers. The truths which He presented were then, as they are now, of paramount interest and importance. His utterances, without revision, are pertinent to modern life and make universal appeal. In them are heights that no man has scaled; depths which no man has sounded; reaches of length and breadth which no man has explored.

Not only was his word with power to his contemporaries; but it is equally powerful now. Larger numbers of people are learning of him today than ever before; and an increasing host find in him the solution of their problems, and the supply for their needs. He gives accurate and authoritative information concerning man's most serious problems. Millions are now saying: "There was the true light, even the light which lighteth every man, coming into the world." Each will do well to attend the church of his choice each Lord's day and sit at His feet and learn of Him!

A Haven
For Mannie
By
ANNA E. WILSON

WIND, broad-shouldered Joel said, was just air in motion; all wind was the same. But Mannie, putting a tired hand to her head, pressing it against that spot of pain above her eye, decided that Joel must be wrong. There were all kinds of wind; but the worst was this wind that blew for days until it got into your head and burned a tight band about your forehead.

Joel came in to dinner. "It must let up soon, Mannie. It's never blown this long before."

"It'll never stop, Joel."

Joel's kind, blunt face looked worried. "We've got a good start here, Mannie. You like it here when the wind doesn't blow. Maybe running away isn't the solution. Maybe any other kind of life would have drawbacks too, Mannie. Seems like we might find a better way."

"You can't stop the wind, Joel."

When Joel had gone, Mannie washed the dishes, the pain above her eye becoming each moment more unbearable. She reached for an aspirin, thinking of Joel, and stopped. It did no good to say the wind wouldn't blow tomorrow, there'd be the next year and the next.

Joel could sell the ranch and get work in a factory. She could see him in 15 years, his shoulders stooped, his hair thinner and the swing gone from his walk.

Joel wouldn't blame her, but he wouldn't be happy, Joel would never be happy anywhere away from the prairie. That was what made it so hard, so impossible for her.

She looked out and nowhere was there anything but sameness, nowhere except that old bluff, bordering Dead Man's canyon, a deep cleft sheltering a slough.

ROANIE was surprised at being saddled so early in the day. He jumped as spurs dug into him and he swung around and headed into the wind. When Mannie came to the bluff she reined in Roanie and sat looking down into the canyon. It was narrow, steep with few footholds.

She slid down from Roanie and looked down to where a thin sliver of light, water, was barely visible—it was quiet down there—the wind could never reach you. She began to climb down, her feet slipping on the shale and stone. She rolled down the last 20 feet ignominiously.

She lay quiet on a tiny beach, relief seeping through her. The sun was warm and she relaxed and slept, like a limp rag on the sand.

WHEN she woke clean-eyed, clear-headed, the sun was slanting against the wall. It was time to get back. She could stand the wind now; she could stand anything. She glanced upwards and caught her breath. Nowhere was there a single foothold.

She proceeded cautiously, examining the walls, coming at last to a shelving cave. Above the entrance was printed in rough letters: Windhaven.

Windhaven. Someone had been here before her. Someone had come here to escape from the wind, just as she had come.

She advanced farther into the cave and her foot struck a light object—a comb that some woman might have worn. If a woman had come here years ago, she must have had some way of getting back. Mannie hunted furiously.

It was simple when she found it. A rough hair rope, hidden by the side of the boulder, exactly the same color as rock and shale. She seized it eagerly and began to climb. She reached the rope's end and found it anchored securely by a huge rock, invisible to those above. She pulled herself over the rim of the canyon. She heard a nicker farther along and rounded a curve to find Roanie grazing.

She rode him with the wind behind her—but it was no longer a fearsome thing, something from which there was no escape but in flight. Windhaven—she had only to climb down the canyon to sleep securely on the small, dry beach. Why they could spend whole days there, she and Joel.

BOYCE HOUSE

I'll never forget when I was given an encyclopedia, a 12-volume set, absolutely free.

It was back a good many years ago when I was editor of a small town daily and felt a keen sense of my own importance as the holder of that exalted position.

One day, a well dressed man, a few years older than I, came in and said, "I represent the world-famous Blank Encyclopedia and I want to give you a set of these wonderful books, absolutely free."

At my look of astonishment, he continued, "In each city, we select some outstanding citizen and make him a present of a set. The only thing we ask is that you permit us to use your name as endorsing the encyclopedia."

Well, that sounded reasonable enough, so I agreed.

"There will be a small charge, of course, for handling and shipping," he said.

"Of course," I concurred. "And, naturally, you will want the de luxe edition in the special buckram binding?"

"Naturally."

"There is an extra charge, a very small charge, for the buckram binding," he said, "but you'll never regret your decision."

Then he continued, "Of course, the Blank Encyclopedia is up-to-the minute now but in this changing world, today's facts may be out-of-date tomorrow. Naturally, you will want to receive our monthly loose-leaf service?"

"Yes, naturally," I replied, rather weakly.

"There will be a small service charge for that. And now," he said, briskly, "just sign here."

I did and he shook hands and took a breezy departure as well as my check for $22.85 for a set of books which I received absolutely free because I was an outstanding citizen.

There are 435 members of the House and not one of you knows what the Marshall Plan is any better than I do. Maybe some of the newspapermen, who have all the answers, can tell us what it is.—Rep. George H. Bender (R.-Ohio).

A case of rank discrimination was declaring a national cat week, whereas the dog, the father, rate only a day apiece.

It has come to pass that it's the credit grocer, instead of the doctor, who tells us we're eating too much.

EYESIGHT is so precious and good lighting so cheap there's no need to strain your eyes because of insufficient light.

Good lighting is so necessary for good eyesight that you should make sure that in every room of your home, or in every section of your place of business there is always enough light.

Whenever you find your eyes tiring quickly, CHECK YOUR LIGHT. It may be too weak or possibly too strong. If you can't determine the proper light yourself, call a Public Service lighting specialist.

I'LL COME TO YOUR HOME OR PLACE OF BUSINESS

A Public Service Company lighting specialist will come to your home, office, or place of business to give you recommendations as to how to obtain the best in lighting. There's no obligation. Just call or write your nearest Public Service office.

All Citizens Are Asked To Give To March of Dimes

January has been set aside again this year for the March of Dimes, and Mrs. C. O. Elkins, Randall County chairman, announced this week that every person in the city and county will be given an opportunity to contribute.

All local organizations are being requested to assist in the drive for funds, and containers will be placed in all the schools and also at points downtown.

Half of the funds contributed will go to the Plainview Clinic for treatment of children in this county who are victims of infantile paralysis.

This assistance is available to any local child regardless of the financial circumstances of the parents, and at least two children have been benefitted by this fund in the past few years, Mrs. Elkins stated.

Trixie Travis Becomes Bride of John Shelby Brown in Home Rites

MRS. JOHN SHELBY BROWN

Wedding vows were exchanged by Trixie Travis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Travis of Follett, and John Shelby Brown, son of Mrs. George Brown of Rockport, Ind., at high noon on Sunday, Dec. 28.

Rev. Jack Thompson, pastor of Follett Methodist Church, read the double-ring service in the home of the bride's parents. An improvised altar of fern and white gladioli formed the setting for the ceremony.

Miss Jack Thompson, pianist, played several nuptial selections and accompanied Miss Jean Thompson in singing "Because" by D'Hardelot. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a light rose gabardine suit with gray accessories. Her corsage was fashioned of orchids.

Miss Jan Travis attended her sister as maid-of-honor and Lynn Paul

British businessmen who switched their plants from coal to oil after last winter's coal shortage are beginning to worry that they will get caught by a scarcity of fuel oil during 1948. There have been warnings from the Government that oil supplies might prove inadequate if conversion moves too rapidly. An oil shortage could start another industrial slowdown just at the time coal supplies are improving.

SHORT STORY

The Rainbow Special

By T. M. RIDER

WHEN the woman who had been gazing wistfully at Madame Blue's window display finally entered and asked—of all things—to try on the Rainbow Special, Mady Clark's pleasant smile wavered. That gaudy, multi-colored dress with its golden sash had been displayed because party time was near and Madame Blue felt some girl might like it for a gay affair. Of course, the woman was small and thin enough to slip into it. But she had a sweet face, the kind that made you think of a mother in lavender and lace.

Mutely, Mady showed her to the dressing room, then walked over to the sweater counter. A minute later the customer shyly opened the dressing room door.

"It's beautiful!" she cried. "I know Tom will remember me as I used to look. You know how husbands are. They just don't realize a woman doesn't grow any younger with time."

So that was the wrinkle. She was trying to become a spring chicken for her husband's sake. Somehow it didn't seem right for a nice old lady. Mady couldn't help thinking that some day she might get married and she'd grow old, too. Then, would she have to suffer the experience this woman was suffering?

Mady walked over to the woman and said, "I've just thought of a special dress for madam. A pale blue creation that would be chic with costume pearls and matching earrings."

"Pale blue? Oh, no! My husband loves colors that are bright and alive. You see, he's an artist, and a brilliant one, too."

SHE spoke in a proud voice and smoothed the Rainbow Special with work-worn hands. Mady asked hesitantly, "I don't mean to pry, but is your husband ill? Perhaps a floral dress—"

"Tom ill? You wouldn't ask that if you saw him. He's big and husky, and he always says my cooking's making him fat." She beamed until she noticed Mady staring wonderingly at her hands. Then she said quietly, "I've worked at washing dishes in a restaurant for the past 10 years and I'm proud of it because—well, because I'm doing it for my husband. But I guess you're too young to understand that love means more than roses and kisses."

"My Tom's worth anything, any sacrifice," the lady continued, and brushed at her cheeks with sudden remembrance. "And I must hurry. He's waiting outside in the car and I know he's growing impatient."

That was the last straw! Mady shook her head despairingly. "Erma, is that you?" a deep voice suddenly boomed from the doorway. "I got tired of waiting and crossed the street."

The woman gasped and hurried over to a tall dark-haired man. "Oh,

That was the last straw! Mady shook her head despairingly.

you shouldn't have, Tom. I was coming right out."

WHY, the lady was actually quivering as though she had committed some heinous crime by making him wait a few minutes! Mady glared at him. So this was the brilliant artist! He was husky enough to swing a pick and shovel. Well, why didn't he, instead of making his pitifully small wife slave for him? If this was love she'd steer clear of it!

"That new dress does things to you, Erma!" He placed his huge hands on her shoulders and held her off at arm's length. "Ah, those colors, my dear! They're soft, yet warm and alive. I can't wait to get hold of some paints and brushes."

"Now, Tom, you shouldn't work so soon after the operation. You know what the doctor said."

He nodded thoughtfully and sighed. "Guess I can wait a little longer at that. But say, my vision's improving every minute. I just crossed the street myself. And only this morning you looked so—so colorless. But now, I swear you look just—just like you did before I went blind ten years ago, Erma."

Erma's answering smile was as bright as the sun. Mady felt her heart begin to pound furiously. The artist was recovering from an eye operation and probably would never see colors normally again!

OFFICE

A delinquent customer out in Arkansas claimed that a shipment had arrived in poor condition, and refused to pay the bill, although it was several months overdue. The credit department, after having written several letters, without getting any reply, finally wrote four letters, as follows:

1. To the railroad agent at the town in question requesting information as to the shipment.
2. To the president of the local bank concerning the financial condition of the customer.
3. To the mayor of the city, asking him to recommend a good lawyer to handle the case.
4. To the merchant himself, threatening suit, unless he paid up at once.

To all of which the following reply was received:

"Dear Sirs:
"I received your letter telling me that I had better pay up. For your information I would state that I am the railroad agent here, and received your letter about the shipment; I am also president of the bank, and can assure you of my financial standing."

"As mayor of this city, I cannot recommend any other lawyer than myself, as I am the only member of the bar in this vicinity."

"And finally, if I were not the pastor of the only church in town, I would tell you to go to hell and sue."

"I. O. Dow."
Despite White House denials, the breach in the Cabinet over inflation controls widens. Secretaries Harri-man and Snyder are miffed over Truman's untimely blunder in criticizing Rep. Jesse Wolcott's proposal to suspend anti-trust restrictions on companies cooperating with the voluntary price control. Both Secretaries feel that Truman made them look silly in the eyes of Congress.

Coffee distributors and restaurant men are co-operating to brew better coffee. Their nationwide survey disclosed: (1) Most restaurants assign lowest paid help, dishwasher or bus-boy, to make coffee; (2) no matter how bad it is, the maker thinks his coffee can't be improved; (3) coffee is regularly ruined in the best restaurants by short cuts.

SFC Establishes CHS Constitution

CONSTITUTION OF THE CANYON HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT-FACULTY CONGRESS

We, the students of Canyon High School, in order to create a high spirit of service, do set forth the aims of the student body in a more concrete form and to aid in the realization of these aims, do establish and ordain this constitution for the Student Faculty Congress of the Canyon High School.

ARTICLE I Membership

Section 1. Representation in the Student-Faculty Congress shall be by class, either boy or girl, elected in regular class meetings. Each class shall elect one delegate for each twenty-five members and an additional delegate for each fraction thereof of as great as 3-5. When two or more delegates are to be elected, the nominees shall be voted on one at a time, and the ones receiving the highest and the next highest shall be declared elected. The delegates shall be elected during the first three weeks and serve the rest of the year. Each member shall have an alternate to attend the meeting in the absence of the delegate.

Section 2. A student, in order to be a member of the Student-Faculty Congress, must have the following:

1. Must have passed in all subjects the preceding semester.
 2. Must have no failing grades for the current semester to date.
 3. Must not have a truancy this year or last.
 4. Must not have more than six unexcused tardies the preceding semester, nor more than three the current semester.
 5. Must not have been convicted of a major disciplinary infraction last semester nor this.
 6. Must not be a member of any secret fraternity or sorority.
 7. Must be a student of good attitudes who sincerely desires to cooperate with the faculty and his fellow students in building up a stronger school loyalty, morals, and spirit through constructive effort, and through rather than by destructive criticism and faultfinding.
- #### C. Leadership
1. Loyalty to the cause he is leading.
 2. Self-sacrifice.
 3. Self-confidence.
 4. Ability to inspire the confidence of others.
 5. Congeniality.
 6. Possession of creative ability.
 7. Sense of humor.
- Section 3. The Student-Faculty Congress will have the right at any time by and with the advice of the faculty to exclude or expel any member for cause by a two-thirds majority of votes of the entire membership.

ARTICLE II Organization

Section 1. The officers of the Student-Faculty Congress will be a president, vice president, secretary-treasurer, and parliamentarian who shall also serve as sergeant-at-arms.

A. Any Student who is a member of the Congress is eligible for any office in the Congress except for the president and vice-president. These two must be members of the Junior or Senior classes.

B. Method of nomination and election.

1. The Student-Faculty Congress shall act as a nomination committee for the president and vice-president. Two names for each office from either Junior or Senior classes shall be submitted by them to the student body. The student body has the privilege of nominating any other Junior or Senior, boy or girl, from the floor of the assembly called for the purpose of certifying nominations; provided they have the same qualifications as regularly elected delegates. These nominations must be made at least one week before the election. The election will be held at polls under the regulation of the Student-Faculty Congress. The Junior or Senior who is elected President or Vice-President must not hold any other major office.
2. All other officers, the secretary-treasurer, and parliamentarian will be elected by members of the Student-Faculty Congress by popular vote.

C. Duties.

1. President. (a) To preside at meetings. (b) To rule upon all points of order subject to the Congress. (c) To appoint at his own discretion any special committees which shall possess only advisory powers. (d) To settle tied votes.
2. Vice-President. (a) To assume all presidential duties and powers during the absence or in event of the resignation, impeachment or other disqualifications of the president.
3. Secretary-Treasurer. (a) To keep a permanent record of all legislation and official copies of the constitution and by-laws. (b) To keep the minutes of the meetings. (c) To perform all other secretarial duties common in parliamentary practice and otherwise provided for. (d) To receive and to distribute under instruction by the Congress any money and keep complete records of such transactions.
4. Parliamentarian and Sergeant-at-arms. (a) To advise the chair in parliamentary procedure at the request of the President. (b) To assist the chair in maintaining order at meetings at the request of the President. (c) To act as messenger for the Congress. (d) To assist the chair in taking votes.

D. Term.

The officers of the Student-Faculty Congress will hold their position from the time of election until the end of the school year unless resigned, impeached, or otherwise disqualified in which case another member of the Student-Faculty Congress will be elected to fill the vacancy.

Section 2. The principal will be supervisor of the Congress and must be consulted before any definite move is made by the group.

ARTICLE III Legislation

Section 1. Any member of the Student-Faculty Congress will have one vote. Any member of the Congress may bring a bill before the Congress by introducing it in the Congress and from there it will be referred to the proper committee where it will be worked over and reported by the chairman of that committee before action is taken.

Section 2. The sponsor of the class shall advise the delegates before the vote of any important issue.

ARTICLE IV

An amendment to this constitution may be passed by a simple majority of the votes of the entire student body; after the amendment has been submitted by the Student-Faculty Congress.

Oath of Office

Section 1. Do you and each of you solemnly pledge that you will defend and support the Constitution of the United States, the Constitution of the State of Texas, and the Constitution of the Student-Faculty Congress of Canyon High School to the best of your abilities so help you God? If you do, will you make it known by raising your right hand.

Section 2. The oath of office will be administered by the Superintendent to the President and Vice-President. The President will in turn administer it to the other delegates.

Articles in addition to, and amendment of, the Constitution of the Student-Faculty Congress of the Canyon High School, proposed by the S. F. C., and ratified by the student body by a simple majority vote, pursuant to the Fourth Article of the original constitution.

ARTICLE I

The first Article of this constitution is hereby amended to read: We, the students of the Canyon High School including grades seven and eight.

"The students of the Canyon High School in adopting this Constitution to regulate the SFC has laid the foundation for the development and practice of real democracy in our high school. The SFC has during the first semester of this school term performed several worthwhile projects, and we are looking forward to the presentation and completion of several other valuable projects before the end of the school year. It is the desire of every member of our faculty to give these young people the best of advice and guidance in the performance of the duties as set forth in the constitution.

Canyon Basketballers Overpower Plainview Bulldog Squad 45-31

We wish to express our deepest sympathy to Sarah Jane, Virgil, Helen, and Jerry Martin on the death of their mother, Mrs. Virgil Martin; Faye and Rita Gunter on the death of their mother, Mrs. Uil C. Gunter; Mrs. A. L. Walsh on the death of her mother, Mrs. G. W. Johnson; and Joanna and Valeta Haines and Betty Slagle, on the death of their grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Costley.

Canyon High's Eagles romped over the Plainview Bulldogs here before a good crowd on the home court by a score of 45-31.

The Eagle A team defeated the Plainview A team while the Plainview B squad nipped the Canyon B team by a score of 45-31. High-point man for the A team was Horace Carter with 13 points followed by Austell Burrus who dropped 12 points through the hoop, while Richard Walters swished 10 points through the net. The Eagles were never behind, leading throughout the game.

Coach R. D. Wheelock's Eagles and Miss Paula Frazier's Eaglettes journey to Dimmitt Tuesday night to match points with Dimmitt's Bobcats and Bobkittens. Thursday, the purple and white attends the annual Claude Invitational Tournament at Claude. Quail will be the Eagles' first opponent with game time slated at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon. There are twelve teams attending the tournament from several districts in the Panhandle. This tournament is double elimination with a consolation trophy offered.

Santa Claus Is Good Friend of CHS Pupils

Well kiddos here's a few odds and ends that all we children got from old Santa:

Rusty Davis—bowtie that lights up.

Teachers Discuss UNESCO Plan

Panel discussion on UNESCO was the program for Canyon Classroom Teachers last Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. A. K. Goodman.

Mrs. Vearl Iverson served as chairman and Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. Stella Murrell, Mrs. T. E. Beard, and Mr. M. K. Young were the speakers.

"The work of UNESCO is unlimited," says Mrs. Iverson. "It is the Herculean task of teaching one-half of the world to read and to write, and the serving as an international clearing house for the exchange and wide diffusion of information on the latest technique and materials being used throughout the world in combatting illiteracy and in raising educational levels."

Approximately twenty members were present. Refreshments of plum pudding topped with whipped cream, nuts, and coffee were served by the hostesses: Mrs. Dan Usery, Mrs. L. M. Cousins, Mrs. R. E. Ball, and Mrs. Goodman.

BE PREPARED

Are you going to be caught in a rain storm without an umbrella? No, the weather forecast isn't predicting rain, but there is a pretty big storm on its way. The storm is our semester test and the umbrella is representing a high average or at least one that will allow most of the students to pass their subjects.

"History repeats itself." Some students will find this statement true, for if your grades add up slightly below the passing line, you will find yourself taking the first half over next year. "Yes, history repeats itself."

Just a word to the teachers. Remember all of the wonderful holidays the students have had. They may forget all they ever knew. Do, if you find a note like this attached to the end of a dreaded test, take it into consideration before marking the grade.

"Lord God of Hosts was with us not, For we forgot! For we forgot!"

EDITORIAL

Are you beginning the new year of 1948 with a clean sheet? Many of you are, but there are probably many more who are contented to keep the old, dirty, dingy, and soiled sheet that we finished the old year with. Now just consider things awhile and then decide for yourself whether you are satisfied to keep the stained sheet or not.

Were you satisfied with yourself last year? Did you keep your work up to date? Were you nice to your friends and associates? All these and many others are important questions and should not be thought of lightly. Perhaps it would be impossible to keep your new sheet completely

Grade Notes

Carol Thomas, a student of Mrs. Roscoe Davis' second grade, moved to Perryton during the holidays.

Two of Mrs. Stella Murrell's second grade pupils withdrew. Duane Walker moved to New Mexico and Robert Diller moved to Hereford. Students visiting in other towns are Mac Boswell, Waco; Danny Welch, Abilene, and Arthur Pruett, Deming, New Mexico. The class is studying a new unit on transportation and have five new books to add to their library.

Mrs. A. K. Goodman's room is studying the Eskimos and has a unit panel on the subject. The students brought their most outstanding gifts to school Monday.

Mrs. Dan Usery has a new student in her third grade, A. G. House from Highland Park in Amarillo.

Steven Thomas moved to Dumas from Mrs. Collins' first grade.

Sandra Mosely moved to San Benito, Texas, from Mrs. Joe Black's first grade.

Jackie Pruitt of Mrs. T. L. Collins' fourth grade visited in Deming New Mexico.

Two of Mrs. Mitchell Jones' fifth grade students visited out of state during the holidays. Teddy Lowe went to San Francisco, California, and Nora Dell Ruthart to Hugo, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Vearl Iverson of the sixth grade visited in Salt Lake City, Utah, and Dan Parker went to Ohio.

Joy Bollman, of Mrs. John Davis' fifth grade, visited in Santa Fe, New Mexico.

In Mrs. Andy Walsh's sixth grade Helen Dellard moved to Hereford. Those visiting in other places were: Ray House, in Clovis, New Mexico; Lavon Jackson in Waynoka, Oklahoma, and Ken Kuykendall in Las Vegas, New Mexico. Mrs. Walsh's son from Baylor Medical School at Dallas visited with her during his Christmas vacation.

Students and instructors of Canyon High are glad to learn that Mrs. Marion Parrish, who substituted frequently in the English department during the fall semester, is recovering quite satisfactorily in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo from serious injuries received in a car accident, December 30.

"The Record of America," by Adams and Vannest is the title of the new American history books received over the holidays. These books were ordered because there were not enough of the old texts to supply the demand of the students.

Christmas decorations came down from the walls of the CHS classrooms Monday, and are put away for use next year. Thus, the spirit of fun and frolic is forced to retreat before that of work and review for semester tests, January 22 and 23.

Clean and free from any soiled spots, but if one tries to keep his sheet completely clean he will not get it as dirty as he otherwise would.

A person's attitude toward his friends (and even others), studies or works, and toward life in general is a great factor in keeping one's sheet clean, provided the right attitude is taken. If you take the right attitude you will find at the end of this year, that you have been happier in the year of 1948 than you have ever been before. And if you are happy and contented with your inner-self you will have a clean sheet to present the keeper-of-the-grade when you make that final journey.

Dear Santa,

As a whole, the CHS students wish to thank you for such a merry Christmas and such happy holidays.

Individually, we will thank you for the presents we received. You might not know it, but you have started a big epidemic of gossip, talk and discussions! (And how!) For instance:

Juanita Avent thanks you for a lovely necklace presented to her by a CHS-ex from Hart; namely, Easton Wall.

Thanks from Valeta Haines to you and Billy Abbott when he made known his desire to pour gasoline on an old flame by giving her a blue dress and a melon-rhinestone bracelet.

Evidently you had a round supply of jewelry. Joan Morton received a necklace from David Williams, Bobby Jean Ford, a bracelet from Webb, Peggy La Loge, a bracelet from Tommy Tucker, Emma Gene Zachry, a string of pearls from Bill May of Happy, and a loovely rhinestone bracelet to Geneva McDougal from Carl Jowell of Dimmitt, a dresser set to Verna Davenport from Lee Bailey and a host of other gifts to other folk I have no time to list.

And thanks, too, for certain presents not wrapped in colored paper and tied with ribbon.

James Inman presented Joanna Haines with two dates some what before Christmas and Clifford Burtz gave Glenna Elland quite a few!

Richard Walters was given the great privilege of getting to play pool during the holidays. That is until they discovered he was all of seventeen and "expelled" him because of old age.

Merry Borden says she really had a Christmas with a blond sailor. Who is he Merry?

So did Horace Carter, according to his reports about Jeanette Johnson who was here from California during Christmas. "If only I were 22," says he.

By the way, Betty Slagle, did you have a gay time with James Guthrie at the local cinema, Saturday night? Sure would like to know.

And speaking of Saturday night, how did you two get along, Suzanne Stephenson and Ridings Sloan? Looked like you were having a pretty gay time to us.

Pat Campbell and June Jennings both presented each other with a few dates, so it seems. What about this, kids?

There is an enormous rumor going around that Harold Martin and Ava Dooley are going steady.

Santa, we need an explanation—Why did Sidney Plant get a permanent? Was it or was it not to allure the girls?

Dear Mr. Claus, for next Christmas, please send Sue Ann Colwell a handbook on the "The Process of Butter and Where It Comes From."

"Tis said Betty Thomson is thinking of wedding bells since Tommy came to see her during the holidays.

Austell Burrus thanks you for a deck of cards. They came in handy when he needed them most Friday night.

Well, Santa, I guess this is all until December of this next year. Thanks again for everything.

Love,
"Studes" at CHS.

Choir Will Present Concert in Spring

Canyon's A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Mr. M. D. Shepherd, will present a concert February 27 in the high school auditorium. The time and admission will be announced at a later date.

Publicity chairmen are Guy Brant and Joan Bullard. On this committee are Robert O'Donald, Carroll Wray Dickerson, Mary Ann Sloan, Max Bellah, Merle Bullard, Billie Marie Money, Sarah Jane Martin, Betty Jean Schuette, Bobby Ford, Rita Gunter, Ruth Lill, Frankie Sneed, Ema Gene Zachry, and Donna Erwin.

Chairman for the decorating committee is Betty Erwin. Anita Ruthart, Katherine Furlow, Weedon Young, and Mary Elizabeth Jennings are the committee members.

Miller to Attend Austin Meeting

Principal James E. Miller will attend the Texas School Administrators' Conference in Austin which will be held January 9-11.

General problems in regard to the Texas Public Schools will be under consideration. All the leading educators of the state will attend. Several out-of-state speakers will appear on the program.

"I hope to bring back information from this meeting that will be valuable to our school and community," states Mr. Miller.

Mr. T. L. Devin attended an area conference of Vocational Agriculture teachers in Plainview Saturday. The group discussed the new judging contest rules and other things pertaining to Vocational Agriculture.

Use of Aluminum Shows Increase

Jump in the Cost of Copper Brings Shift to Other Basic Materials.

CHICAGO.—Manufacturers in increasing numbers who formerly used copper as a basic material are turning to aluminum and other materials because of the higher price of copper and the smaller pound for pound amount of substitutes required in fabrication of their products, an industry spokesman said. Copper currently is quoted at 21½ cents a pound, aluminum at 15 cents and other substitute material are correspondingly cheaper.

Aluminum was said to be the biggest competitor of copper. It is much lighter and has a much lower melting point. Although it is more susceptible to corrosion and more difficult to process, in many instances the price differential makes additional processing economically feasible.

Many Alloys.

Substitution of aluminum and other materials for copper long has been in progress in the household appliance industry. Castings, formerly made of copper, are being made of aluminum and porcelain enameled steel by some producers. A large variety of aluminum alloys is available.

New techniques and applications of rubber and plastics as insulating materials in production of wire and cable also has cut into potential copper usage. With recent copper shortages aluminum wire of standard diameters and conductivity equal to that of copper has been developed. Plastics also are replacing copper in wire cloth used for screens.

Create New Markets.

Copper producers assert, however, that although certain markets may dwindle as substitutes prove adequate, other markets will grow and new markets will be created. Although no official estimates have been made public as to the vast amount of intricate electrical equipment and machinery required in development of atomic power projects, much copper is expected to be needed in building this equipment. The shortage of motors, generators and other electrical items created by the war and the large amount of copper required in the automobile and home building industries are expected to provide a sustained and increasing demand for several years.

Little Nondescript Dog Proves Faithful to End

WICKENBURG, ARIZ. — He was just a little nondescript white dog. He was familiar to the folks of Wickenburg for several years. They saw him often trotting along on his hind legs behind his master.

The pair came to town weekly from Thompson's lonely cabin in the desert for provisions which he carried home in a sack over his shoulder.

Then H. C. Nicholls, who knew the aged prospector only by sight, reported he had found Thompson in a fainting spell along the highway and had taken him home.

Constable B. E. Fugatt went to the Thompson cabin to see if there was anything he could do. He found Thompson dead and the little white dog on guard.

The dog wouldn't let Fugatt approach the body of his master. Fugatt called Justice of the Peace R. L. Westall. But, with no word from his master to restrain him, the dog kept both at bay.

Finally at the word from Westall, Fugatt shot and killed the animal so they could remove Thompson's body.

Today the little dog with courage lies buried at the feet of his master in Wickenburg cemetery.

"It was the least we could do," Westall said.

Cops Get Signals Crossed; Wanted Man Is Set at Liberty

ALEXANDRIA, VA. — Police departments in Alexandria and Newark, N. J., got their signals crossed and a man wanted in connection with a slaying in New Jersey is at liberty.

Lt. Russell A. Hawes, of the Alexandria force, explained—

Antonio Carlos Winsord, 33, picked up while sleeping in an automobile, told police he had beaten his wife in Newark and believed she was dead.

Newark police, told of the statement, Hawes continued, said the man wasn't wanted. He was released.

Later, Hawes said, the Federal Bureau of Investigation told Alexandria police that the man was wanted, and that a request that he be apprehended came from Newark police.

Bridegroom Broke Early; Had No Cash for the License

DETROIT.—Elmer H. Dupke, 21-year-old prospective bridegroom, thought he had taken care of everything when he appeared with pretty Margaret Traub, 20, to apply for a marriage license.

But he neglected one important item. Asked for the fee, a red-faced Elmer searched in vain until the bride-to-be handed over the bill.

"But he'd better not let this become a habit," she said.

World Wheat Stocks Reach Lowest Level

Situation May Have No Effect
On Consumer Prices.

WASHINGTON.—The amount of wheat the principal exporting nations were able to save from last year's crop was the smallest in eight years, according to the agriculture department.

The report, compiled by the department's foreign crops and markets division, raised the possibility that deficit nations may have to scrape along this year with even less wheat than they had expected from this and other exporting countries.

The situation probably also will have an effect on American consumer prices.

If world competition for wheat drives grain prices higher it will be reflected in higher domestic retail prices for meat, poultry and dairy products.

The department said wheat stocks in the four main producing countries on July 1—start of the new crop year—were only 379 million bushels. This is eight million bushels below 1946 and the smallest July 1 stocks since 1938.

In addition to the United States, the world's major wheat-exporting countries are Canada, Australia and Argentina.

Total world grain reserves on July 1 were estimated by the department at 49,365,000 short tons, an increase of some 20 per cent over the previous year.

This was due almost entirely to a sharp rise in world corn reserves, principally in the United States.

The world corn carryover was estimated at 977 million bushels, an increase of nearly 50 per cent over 1946.

The increase in the American carryover since has been counterbalanced by hot, dry weather in the corn belt, which has cut this year's corn crop several hundred million bushels.

Although this country had a record-breaking wheat harvest of 1,427,000,000 bushels, officials have all but given up hope of meeting their original export goals because of the disastrous corn failure.

Keep Fit And Avoid Prevailing Common Ailments

"Keep your body in good physical condition," advised Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. While colds, influenza, and pneumonia are different conditions, all three may be brought on or made worse by lowered bodily resistance, and all three may often be prevented in the same ways.

"When these communicable diseases are prevalent, avoid crowds as much as possible and plan your work and recreation so that you will not over tax your strength and get tired out. Be sure that the room where you are is always well ventilated. Drink plenty of water and don't let your system get clogged.

Sufficient rest, cleanliness of hands, mouth and teeth, fresh air while at work and during sleep, regulation of meals and bodily functions, wholesome food and freedom from anxiety will increase bodily resistance and help avoid contracting these diseases.

One attack of cold or influenza does not confer immunity. Individuals have been known to have several attacks during an epidemic. Segregation of the patient is desirable to avoid giving the disease to others.

If you develop symptoms of cold or influenza, consult your doctor early and follow his advice.

Officials in Europe, particularly in Great Britain, are apprehensive that the year-end gains in coal production will lull Americans into thinking the Continent is about to recover without assistance under the Marshall Plan. Actually, inside reports show that the economy of Western Europe is shakier now than it was a year ago, and winter is only started.

Britain's Foreign Secretary, Ernest Bevin, is pessimistic about any further meetings of the Foreign Ministers Council to discuss peace terms for Germany and Austria. There is no inclination on the part of Washington or Moscow to make the first move toward another meeting, since the failure of the recent session in London.

French Communists have discovered they made one serious blunder in trying to take over control of the French unions. The error was made in the metal workers' union. Labor leaders submerged the most influential engineers and technicians by making them part of the rank and file in the organization. As a consequence, these highly skilled workers led the unions away from Communist leaders during the labor split that followed recent strikes.

The Commerce Department is going into business. Henceforth, instead of supplying its services and releases free or for a few cents, all material will be sold to businesses and to trade papers at prices ranging up to $5.

New Antiseptic Reported Effective for Infections

BOSTON.—Perfection of a new antiseptic that kills more than 40 types of bacteria and is "as important as sulfa drugs and penicillin" was announced by the Asthma Research Foundation, Inc., of Boston, a non-profit organization.

The germ killing solution—named glycerite of hydrogen peroxide—was discovered by Dr. Ethan Allen Brown of Boston, regent of the American College of Allergists.

Dr. Brown said more than 5,000 patients afflicted with various infections have been cured by the new antiseptic. He said 20 physicians, physicists, chemists and bacteriologists have used the antiseptic with uniform success for six years in private research.

The antiseptic was said to be particularly effective in curing infections of the nose, mouth and throat and skin rashes and in treatment of tuberculous glands.

Veteran's Leg Is Saved

By Alert Subway Employee

NEW YORK.—An alert employee on a subway train in Brooklyn pulled the emergency cord of his train just in time to save a 22-year-old ex-G.I. from being crushed between a station platform and one of the coaches.

Police said Irving Epstein, former soldier and a student at Brooklyn college, made a dash for the train just as the doors closed, slipped and fell so that one leg was wedged between the train and the platform.

Frank Augustinski, 32, who saw the mishap, pulled an emergency signal so that the train did not start.

Man Is Freed From Prison

To Begin Another Term

SPRINGFIELD, MO. — Lyhue Samuel Hancock, 35-year-old Nashville, Tenn., truck driver, who was discharged here on a writ of habeas corpus, has decided he will return to Tennessee "of my own free will" to begin a 20-year prison term.

Hancock was released from the U. S. medical center here July 20, after serving five and a half years of an eight-year term, for a Dyer act violation.

In February, 1942, he entered a guilty plea in federal court in Tennessee, then was taken to a state court where he pleaded guilty to arson charges, then was turned back to federal officials.

Any Port in a Storm Is

Motto of Montana Pilot

WINNETT, MONT. — Gary Simmons believes that the seafaring adage of "any old port in a storm" should apply as well to airfaring.

Unable to locate an emergency landing field when he was running low on gas, Simmons plunked his twin-engine plane down on a Winnett city street, taxied five blocks to a gas station and order the amazed attendant to "fill 'er up."

After gassing up, he wheeled the plane around, taxied back to the edge of town and took off down the highway.

The population of the United States when the first census was taken in 1790, was 3,929,314.

BUFFALO DRUG

OF COURSE

A young R. A. F. officer stationed somewhere in Egypt was flying near the Great Pyramid, carrying out exercises in navigation and discovering his geographical position with a sextant.

After a series of involved and confused calculations, he turned suddenly to his pilot and said, "Take off your hat."

"Why?" asked the pilot.

"Because according to my calculations we are now inside St. Paul's Cathedral."

Westinghouse will complete two new plants in 1948 to increase lamp production. The company now makes 1,500,000 lamps a day and sells them cheaper than ever before—a 60-watt incandescent bulb which retailed for $1.75 in 1907 now sells for 11¢; the 40-watt fluorescent lamp which sold for $2.80 in 1939 now sells for $1.

Ice sales are hitting an all-time high—55-60 million tons a year despite mechanical refrigeration advances. The industry expects future demands will be even greater for ice produce in transit, for use in retail display cases, for fruit canneries, and for cube and crushed ice sales by coin machines.

Nixey Awakens

By Harold Monroe

JIM VARDON, ex-boatwain's mate second class, United States Navy, luxuriated on the end of his spine and the back of his neck in the old arm chair, lugged out there on the porch especially for his comfort by his dad.

Mom was looking down at the foot of the steps where Nixey, the dog, stretched in the sun, and Jim could see that worry or something was clouding her pleasant face. He stirred and his mother turned to face him.

"Jim-Jimmy, Dear." She blinked her kind grey eyes. "Jimmy, are you happy—really happy I mean."

He grinned at her. "Happy? Why of course I am, Mom." He went over and gave her a hug, then stooped down to towle the dog's ears. The old dog hardly opened his eyes, and Jim went back and dropped heavily into the arm chair.

Presently a soft glow began to warm him. He was recalling his boyhood and he thought of the time Nixey had followed him into Fowler's Funeral Parlor where the high school band practiced on Sunday afternoons. How the dog managed to sleep through all the tootings and squeakings and blarings of the ambitious and youthful musicians he would never know, but Nixey had.

And the time when, instead of going into the big hall at the Masonic Temple where the high school was giving a reception and dance for a visiting basketball team, some of the gang had slipped off into one of the smaller lodge rooms for a secret game of craps, and prim

The old time was back.

Miss Halsey, the English teacher, had barged in on them. The rest of the gang had beat it safely before the teacher had had a chance to recognize them individually, but Jim knew it was all off with him when, as he ran, he heard her say: "I didn't recognize any of them, but here's old Nixey, James Varden's dog, asleep in this corner, so at least we know James was one of them."

Mom was still there in the swing with her knitting and between every few knits and purls her eyes would stray toward Jim. Suddenly she said: "Say, Jimmy, your gun is out in the garage. Why don't you go hunting sometime? It would do you good."

JIM didn't feel that he particularly wanted to go hunting. He just didn't seem to want to do much of anything, it seemed. But Mom was trying so hard to be helpful he didn't have the heart to say no.

"OK, Mom." He got up and sauntered around toward the garage. "Come along, Nix!" The old dog just rolled his eyes under drooping lids and went back to sleep.

The shotgun rested on some pegs on the back wall of the garage. He lifted it off, broke it down and squinted through the dusty bore. Rummaging around through a drawer, he found his ramrod and ran a rag down the barrel.

He took his hunting jacket from a hook and dusted the cobwebs off it. In one of the cavernous pockets he found several shells. He slipped the coat over his shoulders, picked up the gun and strolled back through the house, dipping into the bulging cookie jar while in the kitchen. Mom was still on the front porch.

"I guess I'll go out to the lake and use up these shells," he told her.

"All right, Son," she said, and added just as she always had done when he was still a kid. "But be careful, won't you."

Nixey rolled his eyes, then lifted his head, and the next instant he was all over Jim, licking his face and scampering madly about. Joyful little yelps punctuated all his actions.

Jim gulped back a knot that was sliding up into his throat. "Mom, he knows me for sure now!" He rumpled the old fellow's ears. "Lookit him, Mom!"

Tears were in Mom's eyes. "I-I'd hoped the gun and your jacket would wake him up. Three years is a long time for you to be away, even for the rest of us, but for old Nixey it was much longer. . . ."

"Yeah," Jim agreed. He cradled the gun under his arm and strolled off. Nixey skipped along lively at his heels. And Jim Varden thought that he had never felt so happy and care-free in his life before.

It was the needed touch for the old time to come back.

"We come 2000 miles to see the Grand Canyon—then you're afraid to look!"

American coal is being delivered to Italian ports, then shipped across Europe to Austria. Meanwhile coal from Poland is being sent across Austria to Italy. Untangling such things will be one of the biggest headaches for the experts once the European Recovery Program gets started.

Some German engineers are trying secretly to build facilities for occupation headquarters strong enough so that the buildings could be used to house military installations when the occupation ends. American officials discovered one case in which the Germans were trying to get heavy concrete roofing for a garage, although specifications called only for wood.

The racial problem is the human race.

Great Britain's deal to get timber from Russia contains a sizable joker. The British will start getting lumber only after they have delivered sawmill and transportation equipment to the Russians so that the timber can be cut and moved to shipping points. This probably means it will be spring of 1949 before any of the needed lumber reaches England.

Replacement tire sales will drop considerably in 1948-49. But manufacturers predict they will nevertheless exceed their 1941 all-time pre-war peak of 34 million by at least 1.5 million.

The Post Office is carrying a third more parcel post since new freight rates went into effect last October.

Handicapped by obsolete equipment and swollen volume in other mail classes too, the department may ask higher parcel post rates with the hope of dumping the avalanche back on the rails.

Blue mink coats have replaced the old-fashioned brown ones, we hear, as the symbol of social prominence in New York this season. They are backed up, of course, by a supply of the same old ugly green paper.
